

CHASE CUSTOMERS BEWARE

Chase is spending millions on advertising*, yet it is simultaneously SQUEEZING its existing customers, HARD.

Chase Bank is “quietly” converting existing customer credit card accounts to new rates and terms.

Hundreds of thousands of existing credit card account holders have seen Chase raise their minimum monthly payments from 2% of the balance to 5% of the balance. These accounts have had no late or and Chase is hurting them, too (and since entrepreneurs are the lifeblood of the economy -- this HURTS EVERYONE, even if you don't have a Chase account).

Daily-Protest.com This was Alessandro Machi's first Chase Bank protest site, dedicated to his father who passed away less than 2 weeks after he started the blog:

The real motivation behind these changes is to force cardholders to give up special, fixed interest rate promotional credit card loans, originally offered by Chase to be “Until the Balance is paid in full.”

Because Chase couldn't change the interest rate of these “special” promotional loans, it came up with a way to squeeze cardholders into “voluntarily” agreeing to a change the terms (double the interest rate for a limited time, after which the rate will become the “standard” -- HIGH -- variable rate). If these new terms are “voluntarily” accepted, Chase will again allow a 2% minimum payment.

“I did not think he was that close to passing. I actually opened my first Chase ‘love letter’ [changing terms] just a few feet from my father’s home hospice bed. Chase Bank stole some precious moments from me and my dad. I was with my dad the entire time, except for my hour a day protest against Chase that started while my father was still alive.”

IMPORTANT NOTICE REGARDING CHANGES TO YOUR ACCOUNT

An increase from 2% to 5% is a 150% increase. So, for example, a minimum monthly payment of $300 becomes $750. For people who are already struggling to make ends meet in a tough economy, this is a huge increase. Small business owners often use credit cards for capital,
